Overview:

ManTech International Corporation provides Instructor-Led Certification Training for Document Detective. Individuals or groups charged with protecting data are encouraged strongly to attend a formal instructor-led training session in order to ensure that Data Transfer Agents (DTAs) are certified in the use of Document Detective. Certification training provides fundamental instruction in the product's capabilities as well as an understanding of essential Assured File Transfer (AFT) concepts. This includes information on how users and organizations can leverage the product to provide a record of action should the threat of a spill arise in the future.

Justification:

This training provides stakeholders with the opportunity to learn file sanitization best practices and to show proficiency by becoming certified in Document Detective. From an organizational level, having DTAs certified is one additional step in risk mitigation and helps to show that an organization is doing everything possible to protect data.

Who should attend?:

Users new to Document Detective or existing users wanting to freshen their knowledge; Security personnel responsible for trusted downloads; Data Transfer Agents who perform transfers across security domains; Officials with authority to approve trusted downloads or transfers; IC personnel tasked with Insider Threat mitigation; DTAs wanting to protect themselves in the case of future spills; and IC users tasked with file transfers.
